Speaking and Entertainment

Recapturing youth for success in life and work.

*"It's never too late to have a happy childhood."
- Jerry Seinfeld*

Tim was awarded
Member of the Year 2007
of the MN National Speaker Association for his contributions and expertise.

Tim's message will inspire your audience to believe in their potential and reach for unseen realities through strategies for greater success and balance in life.

Leaders want solutions to improve productivity, increase morale, and retain employees. Everyone wants to live a longer and higher quality life while experiencing greater fulfillment and purpose. The key to achieving these organizational and individual results comes by recapturing youth and bringing back the magic we had as children.

Through his "Child at Heart" presentation Tim motivates, inspires, and entertains while instructing your audience on the principles we can learn from children that are critical to success in the work world and at home. Humor, magic, and juggling engages your group from start to finish. Tim's narrative style and visuals make the program easy to understand and follow. Everyone can relate on some level to the ideas shared.

The "Child at Heart" program is far from being child-ish. The benefits to participants are far reaching and include:

- Best practices from the fields of business, psychology, technology, and health science.
- Simple strategies that can make an attitude and perspective change immediately.
- Techniques to laugh more, reduce stress, restore health, and improve creativity and innovation.
