

TECHNOLOGY THAT WORKS

Cimbura.com Technology is the solution to your information and business management needs so you can be more effective, productive and profitable. We collaborate with you to determine the best technology solutions for your business.

Based in Minneapolis, MN, Cimbura.com is a leading FileMaker developer in the upper midwest region with hundreds of successful development projects and installations. Our company has been a trusted technology resource for businesses for over 25 years. Whether it's working to support a home-based office or a large workgroup installation with hundreds of clients, we can assist.

We have the experience and knowledge that can help your business be more effective, productive and profitable...especially when budgets are tight. A small investment in the right technology can pay off quickly.

Get more done.

Cimbura.com believes that the company developing your software or integrating your technology shouldn't just be a consultant. It should be a partner.

- We deliver custom technology solutions that give your business a competitive advantage by developing applications using FileMaker Pro and integrating your solution with other applications such as QuickBooks, Microsoft Word/Excel, Apple Mail, iCal via AppleScript and other technologies. We can get your solution on the web, iPhone, iPad, or connect it to nearly any other database available.
- We design, install, and support computer networks, servers, workstations, and software on MacOS and Windows.
- We also provide technology training, presentations for large audiences, or personalized technology coaching/mentoring.

For small businesses, we can be your entire technology department. In the enterprise, we can boost the productivity of your department, bringing you innovative, reliable and user-friendly technology in record time. With Cimbura.com as your technology partner, you will get more done.
